Buits Urged Against the Mayor and Others to Recover the Sums Paid.

The Kings County Grand Jury came into the Brooklyn Court of Sessions this morning and Foreman George F. Nichols handed up to Judge Moore a big batch of papers.

The court-room was crowded. The report pread that a large number of the Board of Supervisors and several members of Idermanic Committee on the Columbian relebration had been indicted.

After the roll was called, Foreman George F. Nichols announced that the Grand Jury had finished its labors. City and Suburban Travel Delayed and Mails Late.

Usual Breakdown on the Bridge and Thousands Made to Suffer.

When Gothamites peeped from their beda first gitmpse of what was going on out of doors they were forcibly reminded of a similar scene which broke upon their astonished years ago, when the famous and never-to-beorgotten blizzard struck the town.

The air was filled with fine, driving snowflakes, swept along by a blustering gale from the northwest which sent them swirling and eddying over the housetops and had heaped them up in big, deep drifts in the streets below, wherever they could find a lodgingplace under the lee of some protected corner r behind some big building. The whole city was buried under its soft covering of white as far as the eye could see,
